

Questions:

1. What is the distinction between philosophy of religion and religion itself?
2. State the proper function of philosophy of religion.
3. We discussed about the population of the religious adherents around the world.
Do you think the numbers of religious adherents influence your evaluation of religion's credibility?
4. Is it possible to maintain religious exclusivist or inclusivist beliefs while also practicing religious tolerance? What would the concept of tolerance entail within these contexts?
5. Which of the six philosophical approaches to religious diversity do you find most persuasive and reasonable? Why?